The trustees of the institution in attendance were Mesos, A. J. Falls, N. W. Burchell, H. A. Willard, Dr. Richard Joseph, and J. E.

Carpenter.

The first witness called was Dr. C. A. Wells, the attending physician at the school. He testified that he attended (feorge Zelger during his last liliues. He was suffering with malignant scarlet fever. Witness first saw him last Saturday, between one and two o'clock. Did not think at the time that it would be more than an ordinary case. Mr. Howe stated to witness that he noticed the boy at the breakfact-table. He said he did not feel well and be took blue upstairs to his room. Witness veroused enoding him to the heapital, but Mr. Instituble. He said he did not feel well and be took him upstairs to his room. Winess proposed sending him to the hospital, but Mr. Howe objected, saying it would be better for him to remain in the building, so that he could look after him. About uine o'clock last Saturday night winness was sent for by Mr. Howe, who said that Zeigler was worse. Witness are severed the call of soon as possible, but saw at a glance that the patient would not live. It had been which that the boy died of brain fever. This was not so. The cause of his feath was mislimunal scarlet fever. There was a reduced not fit of the fiver but it could not be called brain fever that the cold in the rate of his free; but it could not be called brain fever with the boy prior to his death was properly and well claft.

The writees was cross-examined by Messirs.

Invery But it could not be called brain fever. The bay prior to his death was properly and well claft.

The witness was cross-examined by Messix. Rallantyne, lieker, and Hume, and stated that Zeigler, when taken sick, was put into a reconsequence from the other boys. Every care and attention possible was given him. Had he been at home the result of his liness would not have been different. Witness had been directed by the instead to see that the immates of the institution had the best medical treatment. He was employed at the School as howed him any private family. He made his calls and was paid for them. Had treated the immates of the Reform School for nearly five years, and in that time had only lest four patients—two by searled fever, one by dropay, and one by majarial fever. The examination of this witness was every thorough and proved that everything possible for a physician to do had been carried out.

HOW GROND ENTERIED THE SCHOOL.

The next witness called was a Mrs. Steele, who stated that she went with Mrs. Zeigler and she expressed hereal into the school. Mrs. Zeigler and she expressed hereal fully satisfied with them. Mrs. Zeigler and she expressed hereal fully satisfied with them. Mrs. Zeigler and she expressed hereal fully satisfied with them. Mrs. Zeigler and at the line years old. Witness was present when the boy left his mother. He was good natured and seemed pleased at the idea of going to the exical. Nothing further of imperance we elleted by the examination of the witness and she was easel. ay. Cole was sent to the penitural ary several reasts for robbing the residence of Mr. S. H. Kanffama. When arrested yesternlay he had in his possession a state cutter, and the detectives think that he has been concerned in minerous jobs which have occurred recently. Yesterday Detectives Coones and Miller arrested a colored man maned Americal Linkert, keeper of a second-hand store on Detect, incur Thirteenth, and found a large quantity of goods identified as stolen. nal Theatre-Robert Heller At the head of all prestidigitateurs, con-jurers, magicians, and professors of necromancy, stands Robert Heller. Some of the wonders performed under his wand are as startling as the feats which travelers ascribe to the jug gling pliests of India. For instance, the trick of taking innumberable things from a borrowed hat, which is familiar to the public, he has claborated, and succeeds in bringing out of the catorated, and succeeds in tringing out or the last a live girl, ten years of age. The second sight mystery still remains lucxplicable. There have been hundreds of theories advanced, only to be quickly disproved by some new and more surprising developments. The "living pic-tures," with which Mr. Heller closes his enter tures," with which Mr. Heller closes his enter-tainment, present another mystery which curi-ous people are vainly trying to solve. To-night will be the last time that the living pictures will be produced here. At the matines and carning performance to-morrow "Punch and Judy" will be substituted for them.

The Sellia Concert.

Madame Sellia, the colored prima donna, will sing in concert to-night at the Congregational Church. Madame Sellia comes to our city praised in the highest terms by critics of other cities, and those who have heard her sing since she has been here have become her most enthusiastic admirers. She comes of a musicenthusiastic admirers. She comes of a musicloving race, of whom the Jubileo Singers and others of that kind have generally been considered typical. Madams Solika has stepped into a higher sobers, and cultivated her rare vecal powers under the instruction of the best maters. The concert will have a movel interest to the carious, aside from the merits of the nusical performances. Madama Scikka will be assisted by Mr. S. Williams, bartone, and the members of the Washington Harmonic Society. An attractive programme has been arranged. The seats, which are for sale at Eliis', have been disposed of rapidly.

"A Trip to the Moon." At the National next week we are promised the spectacular opers bougs, "A Trip to the Moon," said to abound in fun, fact, and fancy. The story is that King Pia, desirous of gratify-ing every caprice of his son, Prince Caprice, arranges with Microscope to be shot through a arranges with Microscope to be shot through a monster cannou to the moon. The first act closes with the party entering the cannon, which is fixed off. The second act opens with a group of the inhabitants, among whom arrive the party from the earth. King Osenes, of the moon, has a dampher about the same ago and general inclination as Prince Ospice, and the two commence immediately to make much trouble for their respective fathers. The lusiness and dialogue is in true butlesque, and, with the superb company of the Kirnlya, undoubtedly it will be produced successfully.

There will be a matinee at the usual boar this afternoon. The bill offered is exceptionally flue. The performance of Liston, the musical genius, is something which every one should hear. There are a number of other stars, including Miss Emma Bretto and other leaders on the variety stage.

Soit Against the Pullman Car Company. The usual monotony of the court over which The asual monotony of the court over which Judge Carter is presiding was broken when the case of Lebmann vs. the Pullman Palace Car Company was reached two days ago, and which is still being tried. F. A. Lebmann, of this city, purchased a ticket for a berth in the sleeping-car which was to have left Washing-ton for New York on the 1st of October, 1876, Expecting to go to bed as soon as the train started he did not provide himself with extra clothing, nor take any precautions to guard his health, which was at that time far from his health, which was at that time far from good. The eleeping-car was not attached until the train reached the other side of Baltimore, about twelve o'clock, by which time Mr. Lehman had caught a violent chill. When he reached New York next morning he was not only very ill, but a wound received at the battle of Gettysburg had caused one of his legs to shorten so that he was put to great pain and inconvenience, and lost much time from his tuadness. He sinct the company for $5.000 damages. Thus far the efforts of the defendants have been directed toward shifting the responsibility of the damages upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, but Judge Carter has already intuitied in sopinion that this cannot be done, and that the Pullman Cartoniany about the responsible. The argument this cannot be done, and that the Pullman Car Company above are responsible. The argument by counsel will begin this morning and the case will then be given to the Jury.
